

Research Fellowship Training Objectives

Research Fellowship

The purpose of the Research Fellowship is to enable the trainee to acquire valuable skills in experimental study design and execution.

- Develop skills to critically evaluate the scientific literature
- Design and execute an experimental study under the supervision of a laboratory mentor
- Develop skills in formal presentation of scientific results
- Develop skills of writing research manuscripts for publication